1 Introduction

1.1 Purpose

If you have seen the Table of Contents, you would know that this booklet is intended for people of all faiths. As a disclaimer, I'm a traditional prayer-book Anglican,¹ but I've tried to be objective.

This document was written to help those interested in finding a faith community that would be appropriate for them. Also, there may be people who simply want to learn more about the religious life of St. John's and the surrounding area. I have tried to be inclusive, addressing not only all Christian denominations, but also other religions. For brevity, I have used the word church to mean (unless the context implies otherwise) a church or other place of worship.

1.2 How to Use This Booklet

If you are reading this as a pdf file, you will see that the Table of Contents is linked electronically to the sections of the document. There are five principal denominations in this area, which in alphabetical order are: the Anglican Church of Canada, the Pentecostal Assemblies of Newfoundland and Labrador, the Roman Catholic Church, the Salvation Army, and the United Church of Canada. There is a section for each,² plus another section for all other Christian churches, and finally a section for all other places of worship. If you do not see what you are looking for in the Table of Contents, then try the Index at the back of the book. It is easy to say whether or not a church belongs to one of the five principal denominations. Faith communities which are not part of these five denominations but which are clearly Christian have been placed in the "Other Christian Churches" section. All other faith communities have been placed in the "Other Places of Worship" section. In each of these eight sections, entries have mostly been made in alphabetical order; exceptions are made for the Anglican Cathedral and the Roman Catholic Basilica, which begin their respective sections.

1.3 What's In, and What's Out

I have included every church in or near St. John's of which I am aware. The coverage area includes St. John's, Mount Pearl, Paradise, St. Philip's-Portugal Cove, and Torbay. If I have omitted anything, please advise me by email (see below). This document is meant to be primarily a living resource rather than an historical archive. However, the final section of the document does provide information about the major changes that have occurred since the first edition of this document (6 August 2010).

For each church I have given (if applicable) contact information such as location, mailing address, telephone number, email address, and web-¹The Anglican Church of Canada uses both the Book of Common Prayer (1962) and the Book of Alternative Services (1985). The former uses traditional language, and the latter uses contemporary language. Here is an example:

Te Deum (BCP, page 7)

We praise thee O God; we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.
All the earth doth worship thee, the Father everlasting.

You are God (BAS, page 94)

You are God: we praise you; you are the Lord: we acclaim you;
you are the eternal Father: all creation worships you.

²These sections were created for denominations having at least four churches in the coverage area.

³A few churches have made their fax numbers public, and for these churches these numbers have been included here.

site address.³ Where there is a publicly accessible Facebook address this information has been provided too, omitting the common prefix <https://www.facebook.com/>. In most cases, churches are in their own buildings, but in some cases they are simply renting a room in a building somewhere. I have provided information for both situations, but only provide photographs for buildings primarily used for religious purposes. I have not given the names of clergy, nor the times of services.

Next to the address of almost every church or other place of worship, there is a link to a Google map. Most maps show about 100 metres north and 100 metres south of the location; in some areas these distances have been increased for clarity. Hitting the minus key (–) on the right hand side of the map will increase these distances.

During the pandemic, some churches started to make recordings of their services available on YouTube or other platforms.⁴ By checking the websites of the churches which are of interest, the reader can see if recordings have been made available.

1.4 Credits

Information has come from a variety of sources such as websites, the media, and in some cases contacting persons for information. In particular, for many years I received much support from the late George Powell, who had been President of the St. John's and Area Council of

However, the use of fax machines appears to be waning.

⁴All Youtube addresses begin with <https://www.youtube.com/>. This prefix is omitted in this document, for example services from the Anglican Cathedral can be viewed at @anglicancathedralofst.john4736

Churches, and who had contributed to many other organizations as well. As this is not an academic publication, I have not used footnotes to cite each source, but I wish in this section to acknowledge the contributions made by others.

I thank Queen's College (page 7) for allowing this document to be posted on their website.

2 Anglican Church of Canada

The Avalon Peninsula is part of the Diocese of Eastern Newfoundland and Labrador of the Anglican Church of Canada. Information about the Diocese, as well as information for parish churches listed here without their own websites, can be found on the Diocesan website.

There are no Lutheran churches here, however the Anglican Church of Canada is in communion with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada, so Lutherans moving here should check out this section.

There are some other churches in this area with the word Anglican as part of their name, but they are not affiliated with the Anglican Church of Canada. Such churches are listed in Section 7.

Note: The Gower Street entrances (on the north side of the Cathedral) provide step-free access for worship; the main door on the south (carpark) side provides access to the Cathedral office.

The Cathedral offers traditional Anglican worship, with most of its services using the Book of Common Prayer.

The parish was founded in 1699, with the nave of the current building being completed in 1850. A picture of the altar and reredos appears on the cover of this document. Due to its historical and architectural importance, the Cathedral receives many visitors, especially in the summer months.
